Chamber Boosts Annexation

Members of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors will meet with city commissioners soon to seek annexation of land north of Canyon.

The board, meeting Monday night, decided to talk with commissioners about the possibility of annexing land as far north as possible.

It was reported at the meeting that the city can annex a land area as much as 20 per cent its size.

Chamber manager Roland Black noted that Amarillo is currently considering a motion to annex land as far south as Hollywood Road on U. S. 87.

"We don't want to be a suburb of Amarillo," said Chamber President Eddie Knowles.

"We're going to mess around and have Buffalo Bowl in Amarillo," warned Dr. Willis Harrison.

"We don't want to be swallowed up," said Black.

The city of Amarillo could legally annex to within one mile of the city limits of Canyon.

July Water Use Sets City Record

Water may not have fallen from the skies during July, but it surely poured from the ground to provide Canyon residents with something wet to irrigate lawns.

A record 92 million gallons of water was pumped into city homes, into swimming pools and onto lawns during the month, according to William Wieser, city water works manager.

The amount was a good 20 million gallons above the previous record--71 million gallons in July of 1969.

The last week of the month, Wieser said, proved to be the dryest as more than 3.2 million gallons were pumped on an average daily.

July also proved to be one of the dryest months on record in the city.

U.S. Weather Bureau figures indicated the city received little more than .31 of an inch of moisture during the month.

This amount was just .03 of an inch more than fell during the dryest month on record. That was July of 1964 when the city received .27 of an inch.

In addition to record water usage for a month, July also produced another record. The most water pumped in history on a single day was poured into Canyon during July--4.5 million gallons.

Daily average of water usage in the city was also a record 2.9 million gallons.

Even as dry as July of 1969 proved to be, the July of '70 had it beat. The daily average for July 1969 was 2.2 million gallons with the most pumped in a single day 3.4 million gallons.

Even July of 1970 proved to be dryer than July of 1969, with the most recent recording use of almost 76 million gallons.

This July's reading was triple the reading for the same month in 1961 when 30

Hollenstein Wins Revue

Glenda Hollenstein, Randall County's entry in the district 4-H Dress Revue, tied for best dressed model in the Revue held Aug. 4 at the Villa Inn in Amarillo.

Marilyn Shirley of Deaf Smith County also received the award.

Miss Hollenstein also received a red ribbon for her participation in the Revue.

Escorting Randall County's model was Randy Dugan.

Judges for the event were Ross Bell of Colbert's; Mrs. Larry Forsythe, home economist; and Mrs. Dorothy Morrison, home economist for Dairy Council, Inc.

Rosa Aguilera, a student at West Texas State University, examines a small branch from a Canyon elm tree. The tree, like most elms in the city, is infested. Most experts contacted this week agree the brownish appearance of the trees is due to several worms which feed on the leaves. Most elms here are heavily damaged by the infestation.

County Bemoans Taxes, Talks Smelter Problem

County commissioners moaned collectively over delinquent taxes Monday and informally resolved to begin anew efforts to reap the stray accounts.

Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax assessor-collector, presented the delinquent tax rolls for 1969. Personal property taxes still to be collected total more than $8,000. Real property taxes delinquent total almost $20,000.

For nearly an hour, the commissioners reviewed the two tax lists.

"I can recognize people on here that owed taxes when I first got elected," said Commissioner Clarence Beckman.

Mrs. Bruse noted that the statute of limitations prohibits collection of real property taxes prior to 1939. She said notices will be sent to county residents owing taxes back to that date.

She said just 10 suits have been filed by the county to collect back taxes.

Randall County Dist. Atty. George Dowlen told the court he has been filing suits at the rate of about one to two per week.

Commissioners asked to read the notice Mrs. Bruse was to send to delinquent taxpayers. They decided it wasn't tough enough and told her to add a stamp to the bottom of each notice saying "Accounts not collected by Sept. 1 will be subject to legal action."

In other business, the court decided to send a representative--either County Judge Carroll Brown or Commissioner Bill Butler to

The Chamber of commerce Board of Directors is protesting mail service in Canyon and the loss of Canyon's postmark on letters destined for out-of-city delivery.

The board voted Monday night to send letters to the Postmaster General of the United States, to Congressman Bob Price and to Sen. John Tower in protest.

The chamber said its action is the result of numerous complaints from businessmen concerning mail service not only to surrounding towns but within Canyon.

The action also involves the elimination by the Post Offfice of the Canyon postmark on letters mailed to out-of-city addresses. The postmark was eliminated about a month ago.

Several businessmen have openly complained that mail destined for surrounding towns takes as much as several extra days to arrive.

Mail from Canyon to other towns must first be routed through the Amarillo Post Office.

"We need to do something to get the mail from here to Amarillo in less than seven days," said one at the meeting.

Bernard Warren, a director, noted that Canyon has no post office service on Saturday mornings. He pointed to other towns in the country which still have Saturday service.

"The postal department has bought new machines that will cancel thousands of letters," said Chamber manager Roland Black. "Now they've got to justify those machines."

Black said that a letter destined for Happy must first go to Amarillo to be postmarked and then it returns through Canyon to Happy.

Director Gerald Warwick said the Canyon Post Office is even taking some mail destined for local addresses to Amarillo for postmarks.

"I don't see how that's going to save any money," said one merchant at the meeting.

It was pointed out at the meeting that citizens in Muleshoe recently petitioned Washington to retain their postmark and won.

In other business, the chamber board reviewed the Canyon Days Celebration and laid tentative plans for next year's.

Chamber President Eddie Knowles said the chamber made about $200 on the barbecue lunch served during the celebration.

Next year's Canyon Days will be coordinated again with the World Championship Pony Express Races, sponsored by the Randall County Sheriff's Posse.

The annual businessmannew faculty dinner will be held Sept. 12 as a result of action taken at the meeting. The dinner will be in the

City, County Talk Facilities Tonight

Canyon City Commissioners will meet tonight with commissioners of Randall County to discuss various services and facilities used jointly by the two governmental units.

The joint session will be during the regular city commission meeting at 7 p.m. in the city hall annex.

It will be the third joint meeting for the two groups since a dispute over costs of facilities began last fall.

The dispute conters around such county-provided services as the jail and radio communications, and such city-provided services as fire protection and the dump ground.

City commissioners two weeks ago set specific limits on payments for jail and radio communications facilities. They also set prices they want to receive for fire protection and use by county residents of the dump ground.

Other business slated for tonight's session include consideration of the list of delinquent taxpayers, bids on a truck for the sanitation department and bids on water and sewer extentions.

'TEXAS' Plays Set For Sunday

"TEXAS" cast members will present the third annual production of "TEXAS" Originals, a variety show, Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre on the WTSU campus.

The acts are composed of original choreography, composition and music and are organized and presented by the "TEXAS" cast, according to Claudia Beets, chairman of the Originals production.

Educator Speaks At Reading Conference

Poor Children Must Be Taught, Too

Schools must alter their curricula to meet the needs of educationally deprived children or these children will turn to the streets and the seedier elements of life for an education, a noted educator told teachers here Tuesday.

Dr. Nicholas J. Silvaroli, assocciate professor of education at Arizona State University, was keynote speaker at the first day of a two-day Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading conference.

More than 500 teachers from the area attended the conference on the campus of West Texas State University.

Dr. Silvaroli, a consultant in migrant education in Texas, told the teachers there are three problem areas which must be confronted in today's schools to provide an education for children who are poor, children who grew up in a home where English was not the primary spoken language.

One problem area is in oral language development, or how well the child can express his experiences in English, he said.

For the poor, but particularly for these children raised in homes where English is unspoken, this is a major obstacle to learning in our schools.

"What we've been assuming in our schools is that all learners come with their oral language established," Dr.

'TEXAS', Canyon, Museum, Attract Record Crowds

BY DIANNE BROADDUS

July's hot, dry weather may have been something for area residents to gripe about, but it didn't keep visitors and tourists away from the city or Palo Duro Canyon.

Three of the area's main attractions--Palo Duro Canyon, the "TEXAS" production and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum--all report record attendance during July.

A representative from the Chamber of Commerce office said that about 25,000 people attended performances of "TEXAS" last month. She added that this was a 25 per cent increase over any previous month.

Palo Duro Canyon's attendance has been increasing every year, according to a representative from the park's office, and this year has been no exception.

The meter at the entrance to the park has counted 22,594 cars, she said.

"The state says that the average number of people in a car is four," she said. That would make the total number of people visiting the park 90,376. This number includes those attending a perform-

Little League Stars Lose 5-3 To Ft. Bliss

Canyon's Little League All-Stars met their first defeat Monday afternoon as they lost to Ft. Bliss, El Paso's All-Stars 5-3 in the Lubbock sectional tournament.

The loss was the first for the Canyon boys, but it was enough to knock them from contention for the sectional crown. They returned home Tuesday morning.

The Stars had won four games in post-season play. Only one other Canyon All-Star team has gone as far.

The Canyon boys were dealt an early psychological blow Monday afternoon when Ft. Bliss scored three runs on an error in the first inning.

The runs placed the Stars behind and they never caught up.

The Ft. Bliss pitcher threw a no-hitter, as Canyon scored runs on walks, passed balls and ground-outs.

"The boys got in the hole," said Coach Phil Langen. "They had a big boy pitching against them and whe-

Postal service is getting progressively worse. Last week I heard of a letter which required 10 days to get from one Amarillo address to another Amarillo address.

Little towns are raising a fuss about losing their post mark. Mail goes to central locations to be sorted and post marked. This may be economical but it does not speed the mail.

Efforts to economize in handling the mail are almost frenzied. The Canyon post office has lost 2,000 man hours of labor in the past year. Services here have been cut to the bone at the behest of those on high.

Canyon Postmaster Lee Roy Moreland said the post office is making an effort to handle the mail so that the people who use the postal system will pay for it. There's not much argument against this approach.

This might mean that people who want to read them might have to pay more for their newspapers but it's only right. Yes, I think newspapers should pay their share of the freight too.

Another blessing in this approach is the almost certain cut in junk mail. The Canyon postmaster said he thinks that circulars entered third class bulk rates will be going for a minimum of a little more than 5 cents per mailing piece with the upcoming postal reform bill.

* * *

Another point in the new postal bill that I like is the one that stipulates that any unordered merchandise will be considered unfair methods of competition and the patron may treat such matter as a gift.

There aren't many of us who have not received this kind of merchandise. You have to pay for it, send it back or throw it away. I usually throw it away.

The President has interfered with justice again. This time in the Manson case. Speaking in Denver President Nixon remarked to the effect that Manson undoubtedly was responsible for the deaths of many persons.

This could cause a mistrial in the case now going on in California and almost certainly could block the way for any future trial. Where in the United States could a man expect to get a fair trial when the President himself has already passed public judgement on his guilt.

On a previous occasion the President referred to My Lai as a massacre. It is now highly doubtful that Lt. William Calley, Jr., or anyone else connected with the case, could get a fair trial.

Pollution Priorities?

(An Editorial)

State and federal agencies work in strange ways. Their timing, their logic sometimes just don't make sense.

Take for example the big fuss currently being stirred about Amarillo's smelter plant. For more than 20 years it has belched smoke into relatively clean Panhandle air. Even so, Amarillo residents can still breathe clean air. The smelter's smoke just hasn't made that much difference in Amarillo's clean air becoming polluted.

Well, suddenly, the Air Quality Control Board down in Austin decides the smelter's going to be the death of us all. Like badgers, the air boarders have hounded smelter officials. A close-up of the plant is threatened.

Now, what's funny--not really funny, but unusual--about the situation is this:

Have you ever been to Houston? Have you ever driven from Houston to the San Jacinto Monument? Have you ever tried to see the top of the San Jacinto Monument?

Probably, the answers to the last two questions is no. What you've probably seen is smog, air pollution, whatever you want to call it. Thick stuff clinging to the air, clogging your lungs and stinging your eyes.

Drive from Houston to the San Jacinto Monument and see the big oil companies blow smoke like giant fogging machines.

The Houston newspapers run a daily feature which includes the forecast for smog.

The priorities of the air control board seem to be upside down.

Maybe the control board is after the big oil companies. Perhaps they're even as tough with these companies as they are with the smelter in Amarillo.

If they are, the state should have ultra-clean air in a matter of very few years. If not by virtue of the fact that Texas industry has cleaned its smokestacks, then by the fact that Texas no longer has any industry.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

The most voracious of America's "sacred cows" is taxes. This inviolable beast is gobbling up about half of the average Aemrican's income, and growing greedier every day. Here is some proof:

U.S. POPULATION	FEDERAL BUDGET	ANNUAL COST PER PERSON
1900--76 million	1901--$525 million	$6.90
1910--92 million	1911--$691 million	$7.51
1920--106 million	1921--$5.062 billion	$47.75
1930--123 million	1931--$3.577 billion	$29.08
1940--132 million	1941--$13.98 billion	$105.90
1950--151 million	1951--$45.797 billion	$303.29
1960--180 million	1961--$97.795 billion	$543.30
1970--210 million	1971--$200.8 billion	$956.19

(Source: Freedon Magazine--May, 1970)

"Population" means every man, woman, and child. Take an average family of 4, multiply by $956.19, and it comes to $3,823.76. This is what the average working family pays in federal taxes alone.

Add to $3,823.76, the school, local, county, state, sales, and all the hidden taxes in every thing one buys, and it means the average working family pays about half of all earnings in taxes.

A growing number of breadwinners are being forced to hold two jobs in an attempt to make ends meet. Many wives, who would much rather sit at home and take care of their families, have to work to help meet living expenses--half of which is taxes.

Why do we have to pay all these taxes? To support millions of foreigners who despise us, armies of non-productive bureaucrats, and political drones whose salaries are 10 times the incomes of the workers who pay them, and to support criminals, and other parasites on the dole.

Recently, the Nixon Administration yielded to pressure from a group of militant women who are angry because they are women. Several federal positions, which sound about as essential to our national economy as contact lenses, have been created for women; the salaries range from about 30 to 50 thousand dollars a year.

Integration laws probably will eventually change the color of many Americans' skins, but these vanity positions are not likely to change any woman's sex. All they will do is increase taxes.

Taxes on a comfortable home in almost any city are about $50 a month. Just the interest on the money invested in a nice home is about $1800 a year. The insurance and upkeep will cost another $50 a month.

Tenants complain of "greedy landlords." Unless a 3 bedroom-2 bath house rents for more than $250, the owner makes no profit at all.

Americans are at each others' throats over the high costs of everything, but the real vampire that is sucking our lifeblood is taxes. And it is getting worse every year.

Giving up half our income is bad, but there is nothing in the Constitution to prevent this sacred cow from devouring all our incomes. The 16th Amendment states: The Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatver source derived, without apportionment among the several States, and without regard to any census or enumeration.

Taxes, like social security, are something that nobody wants to pay, but everybody wants to collect.

Americans, like the poor Indians, have endured this sacred cow, assuming there was nothing we could do. But there is: We can write our congressmen to stop sending fat allotments to our own areas for hospitals in small towns that cannot possibly support them; for huge public-housing projects, while privately owned housing stands vacant; and similar expenditures.

Can we justify the building of public libraries, parks, recreation facilities, and other palatial public buildings while the national debt nears $350 billion?

We can demand Congress pressure the courts to punish vandals, drinking drivers, thieves, and other criminals who are costing us billions in taxes.

Have we really tried to corral this sacred cow?

Letter to the Editor

July 25, 1970

Dear Troy:

I have just read in the Canyon News the account of the Nance gift to West Texas State. I think it is one of the best things that has happened to that fine institution in many a day. I hope others in Canyon and Northwest Texas will follow the Nance example. Opportunities in that great university are abundant and increase with its growth. And one of the nice things about it is that you don't have to be big rich to do a lot of good. Money invested in the education of youth is money invested in the improvement of our nation.

God bless all you good folks in Canyon and the Texas Panhandle.

Silvaroli said. "That's a safe assumption for your kids and mine."

But, the professor said, that is not a good assumption for poor children or Latin-American children or Indian children.

The problem, then, centers around the fact that when most children begin school they have had six years of experience using the English language to describe their experiences. Children who speak little or no English naturally have not learned that skill.

Dr. Silvaroli contends that before a student who is unfamiliar with the language can read or write English, he must have a good oral grounding in it. Before he can write, he must be able to speak.

This leads to the second problem area, that of curriculum and approach for the children who speak little English.

Unfortunately, Dr. Silvaroli said, too many schools fail to recognize the shortcomings of these youngsters and instead of developing oral language the schools pile twice as much written work on the students.

"The kids you have are allergic to books," he said. "They cannot cope with the strain of a textbook program."

The solution, he sugggested, lies in offering a program to these children which involves speaking and listening.

The professor said a highly important problem area in the teaching of students who speak little English is within the teacher himself, in his attitude toward the youngsters.

"People live up to our expectations," he said. "If we expect these youngsters to stick to the books at our rate, we are being unrealistic.

"It is my plea that these children will receive an education in their schools and homes and not in the worst corners of American society."

The conference continued Wednesday with two speeches by Dr. Alice Brook McGuire, associate professor in the graduate school of library science at the University of Texas.

Dr. McGuire spoke on extending the reading experiences of youth.

Hales, Hinders Herds Tested

A report of milk production levels attained by dairy cows in the area has been received from Holstein-Priesian Association of America. The actual food production output, recorded in the DHIR program, by these local registered Holsteins is:

Hales Naches Willo 6807450, a three-year old, produced 18,290 pounds of milk and 678 pounds of butterfat in 340 days. Hales Reflection Noel 6944186, a two-year old, had 17,010 pounds of milk and 582 pounds of butterfat in 305 days. Both are included in the herd tested for Jones Hales of Canyon.

Palo Duro Chief G Mistress 6873335, a two year old in the herd tested for Louis G Hinders produced 17,420 pounds of milk and 649 pounds of butterfat in 305 days.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 8,821 pounds (4,103 quarts) of milk and 325 pounds of butterfat by the average U.S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.

Production testing is made available through the cooperative efforts of the state and local testing associations and Holstein-Freisian Association of America. Dairymen enrolled in the program pay for the service.

He added that the attenance may have been larger for last month because some people do not register when they come in.

He added that the visitors came from 46 states and 20 foreign countries.

Austin Wednesday to testify before the Texas Air Quality Board.

The board met Wednesday to consider a request for variance by the American Smelting and Refining Co. in Amarillo.

"We ought to try to keep it," Butler said. "It's very important to the whole community."

The ASARCO smelter in north Amarillo has operated one year under a variance in an effort to curb air pollution.

"We need to let Austin know we're interested in keeping this $7 million outlay of cash in this area," Butler said. "It's (the smelter) not hurting the health of the community, anyway."

The commissioners took another look at their vote last week to request designation of a Hunsley Road eastern extension as a farm-to-market road.

Judge Brown said he had been told by a Texas Highway Department official that such designation could simply complicate having the road paved.

The court decided to meet with Chili Smith, THD district highway engineer in Amarillo, to discuss possibilities for the road.

Richard Burgess of Dallas arrived last Thursday in Canyon to visit his mother, Mrs. T.E. Burgess. While in Canyon, they visited Palo Duro Canyon and watched a performance of "TEXAS". Burgess returned to Dallas Monday.

New-fangled Flying Machine To Carry Charles Above It All

In another two months, Cecil Charles will literally be floating two feet above the ground.

And, he'll be doing it at speeds to 25 miles per hour.

Technically, Charles, the head of WTSU's print shop, will be flying. In reality, he'll be flying-floating.

Charles is building a relatively new-fangled flying machine called by some an air cushion vehicle.

It's really nothing more than a platform fitted with a seat and two gasoline engines.

Last spring, Charles decided to take on a project which would take up some of his spare time. A pilot, he naturally thumbed through many magazines and publications devoted to flying.

It was in these publications that he found his project.

He sent for plans, which were simply sketches, and set to work about May 1 in his garage.

"I have all the building done on it except the fancy touches," he said.

The base of the craft is a 10-foot circular wing made of plywood. In the center of the wing, Charles has cut a hole, in which the main engine will fit. Above the engine compartment, he has constructed a small platform--his seat.

Behind the seat will sit another engine.

Most prominent feature of the air cushion vehicle is a large tail rudder.

When finished, the vehicle will work like this:

One six-horse power engine in the center of the vehicle will be equipped with a propeller. The propeller will force air underneath the vehicle, thus lifting the craft from the ground.

A rubber or canvas skirt fits around the bottom of the fixed wing platform to hold the air in.

The second engine behind the pilot's seat will provide push for the craft by forcing air to the rear and past the rudder, which provides directional control.

Charles said the vehicle should be able to negotiate gently rolling ground when moving and that it is touted to be able to take off from and land on water.

The craft should be able to lift itself and 250 pounds when completed.

With his flying machine almost completed there's just one thing worrying Charles--piloting the craft.

"I've never flown one before," he said. "I guess I'll just have to learn."

Cecil Charles sits atop his air cushion vehicle and illustrates operation of the steering mechanism. Not yet completed, the craft is to fly above the ground on a cushion of air.

Plats To Be Presented For Apartment House

Preliminary plats for a new Canyon apartment house have been given City Manager Howard Northcutt for presentation to the city planning and zoning commission.

The plats are for property in the Hunsley Hills addition, just south of the golf course.

Before construction can begin on the apartments, the preliminary plats must be approved and streets must be dedicated and platted.

Last August, a group of Amarillo and Canyon developers sought rezoning for the property in preparation for construction of the 100-unit apartment house.

Frank Jones of Amarillo said at that time the apartments would rent for $165 and up.

Wildlife Manager Helped Peru Save Vicuna While In Peace Corps

The vicuna is a humpless camel of sorts, but its reputation is not for a sour disposition.

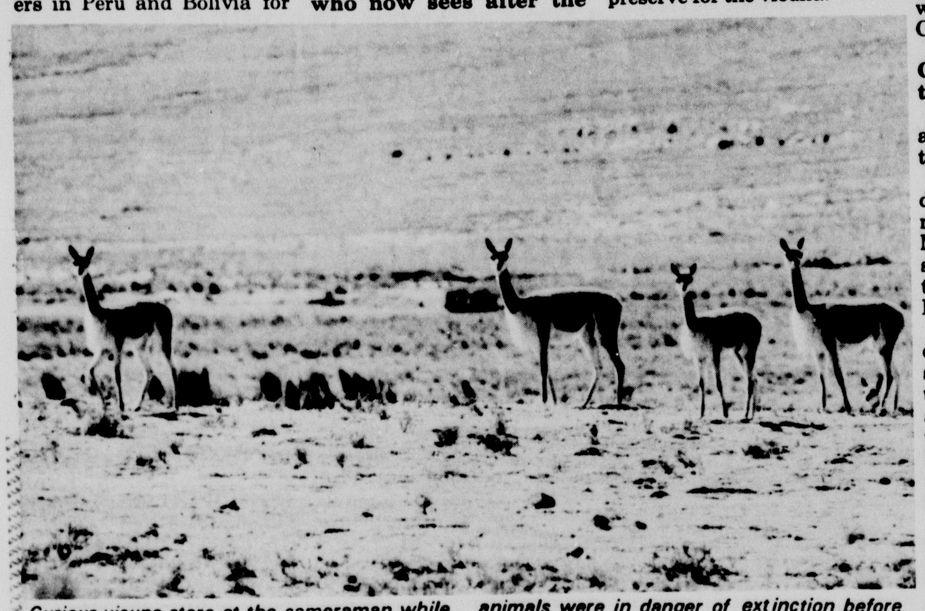
To garment manufacturers, the vicuna is known for possessing the finest wool in the world.

The poor vicuna, a hapless creature, is known to poachers in Peru and Bolivia for the price on its head.

To the Peruvian government, it's known as an animal which may soon be extinct if not protected.

And, the protection, the preservation of these animals was a job given several years ago to a Peace Corps Volunteer, who now sees after the protection and preservation of many hundreds of animals in Randall County.

Stanley Taft, with the wildlife services division of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, was assigned by the Peruvian Agriculture Department to set up a game preserve for the vicuna.



Curious vicuna stare at the cameraman while caught feeding in the hills of Peru. The small animals were in danger of extinction before Stanley Taft set up game preserve.

Taft joined the Peace Corps between his sophomore and junior years at New Mexico State University.

"I wanted a change, I was tired of school," he said. "I'd been in the Marines four years and I thought I'd like to see another part of the world. So I took the easy way out and joined the Peace Corps."

When he joined the Corps, Taft was willing to go anywhere.

He was assigned to Peru and after several months of training he went.

Because he had been undertaking a wildlife management curriculum at New Mexico State, Taft was assigned the task of developing the game preserve by the Peruvian government.

For 20 months, Taft worked on establishing the preserve, setting up boundaries, taking a census of the vicuna and training game wardens to staff the refuge when he left. He also mapped the area and set up a game management program.

The site chosen for the preserve was in the Pampagoleres Mountains, 13,000 feet above sea level.

Taft and a few natives lived in tents for months until sod housing could be completed.

The refuge was the first international conservation effort. Together, Peru and Bolivia were financing the preserve and each were sending men to Taft for training as wildlife game preserve managers.

Taft examines the very fine wool of the vicuna. The pelt was taken from a small vicuna which died of exposure and was brought to Taft's camp.

The training program was perhaps the biggest job for Taft.

He received 14 men, eight from Peru and six from Bolivia for training as preserve managers.

For three months, Taft and others taught the trainees the basis of several courses, including climatology and taxidermy. Following completion of the course, seven of the eight Peruvians began working with Taft on the game preserve.

While in Peru, Taft learned much of the country, even though he was fairly isolated from the population centers.

"Going to Peru is like stepping back about 300 years in our civilization," he said.

The Peruvians live in rock huts covered with thatched roofs.

"They chew cocaine to substitute for food and to protect them from the cold," Taft said. "It is in widespread use. They feed it to babies, too."

Most of the people of Peru raise sheep, llamas and alpacas and contract the wool for money.

"They use every inch of ground for crops," Taft said, noting in a picture that even small shelves on a steep mountain side are covered with growing crops.

"I feel like I got a tremendous experience," he said.

2 Represent County In Horse Show

Susan Ross and Martha Johnson, 4-H club members and members of the T-Anchor club in Randall County, are participating in the State 4-H Horse show in Amarillo. These two 4-H girls topped the District Show held recently in Amarillo according to John Brazzil, County Agent.

Miss Ross and Miss Johnson accumulated top points in the District Show but came out with identical scores. The District Show Committee will award high-point trophies to the two Randall County club members.

Nancy Horton, a member of the same 4-H club made the alternate list at the district show and will be considered in order if some of the twenty selected from the District cannot make the State Show.

Cathy Horton is leader for the T-Anchor Club.

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (HJR30)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Subsections (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (11), (12), and (13), Section 1-a, Article V, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"(5) The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at Austin at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement, censure, or removal of any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall be by affirmative vote of at least five (5) members.

"(6) A. Any Justice or Judge of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts, any County Judge, and any Judge of a County Court at Law, a Court of Domestic Relations, a Juvenile Court, a Probate Court, or a Corporation or Municipal Court, and any Justice of the Peace, and any Judge or presiding officer of any special court created by the Legislature as provided in Section 1, Article V, of this Constitution, may, subject to the other provisions hereof, be removed from office for willful or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties or casts public discredit upon the judiciary or administration of justice; or any person holding such office may be censured, in lieu of removal from office, under procedures provided for by the Legislature.

"B. Any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of this subsection who is eligible for retirement benefits under the laws of this state providing for judicial retirement may be involuntarily retired, and any person holding an office named in that paragraph who is not eligible for retirement benefits under such laws may be removed from office, for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent in nature.

"(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to the misconduct or disability of particular persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

"(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary."

"(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement or removal, due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

"(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of, the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment relating to the removal, retirement, or censure of Justices, Judges, and Justices of Peace under prescribed circumstances."

NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT (HJR28)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 52, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"Section 52. (a) Except as otherwise provided by this section, the Legislature shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town or other political corporation or subdivision of the State to lend its credit or to grant public money or thing of value in aid of, or to any individual, association or corporation whatsoever, or to become a stockholder in such corporation, association or company.

"(b) Under Legislative provision, any county, any political subdivision of a county, any number of adjoining counties, or any political subdivision of the State, or any defined district now or hereafter to be described and defined within the State of Texas, and which may or may not include, towns, villages or municipal corporations, upon a vote of two-thirds majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of such district or territory to be affected thereby, in addition to all other debts, may issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit in any amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of such district or territory, except that the total bonded indebtedness of any city or town shall never exceed the limits imposed by other provisions of this Constitution, and levy and collect taxes to pay the interest thereon and provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof, as the Legislature may authorize, and in such manner as it may authorize the same, for the following purposes to wit:

"(1) The improvement of rivers, creeks, and streams to prevent overflows, and to permit of navigation thereof, or irrigation thereof, or in aid of such purposes.

"(2) The construction and maintenance of pools, lakes, reservoirs, dams, canals and waterways for the purposes of irrigation, drainage or navigation, or in aid thereof.

"(3) The construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof.

"(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (b) of this Section, bonds may be issued by any county in an amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property in the county, for the construction, maintenance, and operation of macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, upon a vote of a majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of the county, and without the necessity of further or amendatory legislation. The county may levy and collect taxes to pay the interest on the bonds as it becomes due and to provide a sinking fund for redemption of the bonds."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment authorizing any county, on the vote of a majority of its qualified property taxpaying electors, to issue road bonds in an amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property in the county."

Mrs. Johnny Bryan Walker

Vows Read For Couple In First Baptist Church

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bryan Walker departed on a wedding trip to Colorado following their Aug. 1 wedding in the First Baptist Church. Dr. Strauss Atkinson officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Miss Nancy Elizabeth Hicks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Hicks of Canyon. The groom is the son of Mrs. Bryan Walker of Lubbock.

The front of the sanctuary was decorated with a candle tree, votive arches, candelabra and banks of emerald. The aisles were marked with votive cups, greenery and white ribbon. The traditional white aisle cloth was used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a misty pink gown of silk organza. The empire bodice and short sleeves were covered with rows of ribbed organza and appliqued in tatting. The A-line skirt fell from an Empire waistline, defined by a satin sash bound in tatting. The skirt flowed into a chapel train in the back. A long veil of misty pink illusion fell from a Juliet cap encrusted with seed pearls. She wore pearls, a gift from the groom, the tradditional six-pence in her shoe, a blue garter worn by her mother in her wedding, and carried a handkerchief carried by her mother in her wedding. The handkerchief originally belonged to the bride's great grandmother. The bride also carried a handkerchief which is being passed among her sorority sisters. Her bouquet was colonial style, using roses, sea foam, carnation and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Melissa Ann Hicks, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Susan Kyle Hicks and Margaret Ruth Parker, cousins of the bride, Amanda Jean Hicks, sister of the bride, and Carla Faye Dunn.

Samantha Ann Holmes of Houston was flower girl.

Steve Peace of Lubbock was best man. Groomsmen were John McDonald, Mike Riddle, Sam Henry and Ron Brogan.

Ring bearers were Andrew Patrick Holmes of Houston and Langley Kirk Smith of Dallas, cousins of the bride. One carried a ring belonging to the bride's great grandmother, the other carried the bride's mother's wedding ring.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Tech University where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, national social sorority. She was chairman of the President's Hostesses, was named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and was named Miss Advertising. She taught in the Monterrey, Calif., schools last year.

The groom is also a graduate of Texas Tech University where he was a member of Phi Kappa Psi, national social fraternity. He served as business manager of the Texas Tech Student Association and chairman of the Leadership Board. He was named to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. He has served for two years in the U. S. Navy. He will be enrolled in New York University to do graduate work in the fall.

The couple will be at home in New York City after Aug. 20.

Services Tues. For Wesley

Funeral services for Bowie E. Wesley were held Tuesday in the First United Methodist Church in Happy. Burial was in Wayside Cemetery in Wayside, Texas.

Officiating were the Rev. Roland Moore and the Rev. Oland Butler.

Wesley was killed July 31 in a two-car accident in Hardin, Mont.

Pall bearers were Roy Thompson, Paul Howard, Dock Zackery, J. W. Furgeson, Don Ed Middleton and Wade Lewis.

Wesley, 29, was a rancher eight miles south of Wildorado. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Happy.

He was graduated from Happy High School and attended South Plains Junior College in Levelland and West Texas State University.

In 1968 he was named Rookie of the Year by the Rodeo Cowboy Association of America.

He was born Nov. 27, 1941, and married Cheryl Ann Allred in Vega, on Feb. 22, 1965.

He is survived by his wife, Cheryl Ann, of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wesley of Happy, and a brother, C.R. Wesley, of Happy.

The family requests that all memorials be contributions to the Fund for Membership Dues in the Rodeo Cowboys Association for the Event Champions of the Southwest Region of National Intercollegiate Rodeo Asciation. Funds may be sent to Albert Flynn, secretary-manager of NIRA, Southwest Region, in care of Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, 88130.
